

PwC's Academy Executive Training Programme

Beyond training, a privileged learning experience with PwC's most seasoned subject matter experts.

Fit to C-suite and board of directors expectations

Executive Training Programmes (ETP) are designed bearing in mind the stakes and constraints of senior management and board members: on premise, highly interactive, focused, short duration sessions (2 hours on average) delivered by PwC's most seasoned subject matter experts.

Flexible and purposeful

ETP modules can be combined and adapted to your very specific business requirements, corporate culture, personal knowledge and experience and given your specific learning requirements (new tenure, change in governance, strategic project, Fit & Proper assessment, etc.)

Privileged and confidential

ETP modules are designed for an individual or for a very small group of executives, allowing the necessary level of confidentiality to answer any of your questions and accompany you in tackling the responsibilities in your functions.

Expert delivery

ETP speakers are senior PwC professionals (partners, managing directors, directors), acknowledged subject matter experts in their respective fields and with the experience and passion of training senior management and board audiences.
